ADAMSKI'S COSMOLOGY (UNWITTINGLY) VINDICATED

George Adamski said in his third book Flying Saucers Farewell (later published in paperback as Behind the Flying Saucer Mystery) that the space people had told him there are three asteroid belts in the solar system; the first is the one we have known for a long time, between Mars and Jupiter, the second is between Neptune and Pluto, and the third on the outer edge of the system, beyond Pluto and three other planets orbiting beyond it. He said he was told that the belts act as the cathodes in cathode ray tubes (TV tubes) speeding up the radiation from the sun and enabling the outer planets to have habitable temperatures.

The recent programme on BBC 4 A Comet's Tale has revealed that the second belt was found in the 1990s. Known as the Kuiper Belt, it is thought to be the source of short-period comets, and objects in it have now been seen by astronomers. The outer belt has never been seen, but its existence is now accepted by astronomers as the source of long-period comets. It is called the Oort Cloud. Of course, it has never been admitted that George Adamski knew about these belts in the 1960s.

This is what Adamski says in the book:

According to the standard textbooks, the radiation from the sun decreases inversely with the square of the distance. In layman's language, this means that if you double the distance from the sun, the radiation would be only one-fourth as great. If you double the distance again, the radiation would be only one-sixteenth as great, and so on. If the sun's radiation actually decreases at this rate, then the outer planets must indeed be in a state of perpetual coldness.

What, then, is the answer? I know from personal experience that these outer planets have thriving civilisations, with climates and atmosphere similar to our own earth. The larger planets, such as Saturn and Jupiter, have much lower gravity than has been assumed by our scientists. Therefore, our explanation of gravity must be in error in some way.

Our main problem now is not gravity but climate. How do these planets receive enough energy from the sun to exist in a similar state to Earth?

A clue to the answer is found in the vacuum tube; more specifically it is found in the cathode ray tube. This tube, abbreviated CRT, is found in the ordinary home television receiver. In it we have a heater which raises the temperature of a cathode to a point where it gives off electrons in great quantities. These electrons are negative in nature. High positive voltages are supplied to various grids and anodes in the tube.

There are two types of electricity; positive and negative. The electron is negative and its counterpart the proton is positive. Just as the north pole of a magnet will attract the south pole of another magnet, the electrons attract the protons. Similar poles of a magnet repel each other and so do similar charges of electricity. Likes repel; unlikes attract.

The high positive voltages on the grids and anodes of the CRT attract the electrons from the cathode. The electrons are pulled towards the anodes with great speed, but, due to the type of construction of these anodes, most electrons rush right on through towards the next one. Theoretically this could be continued for great distances by use of several different anodes and high positive voltages.

Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars are close enough to the sun to get good radiation. With the planets beyond Mars it is a different situation. At these distances the sun's radiation has started to diminish. At this time it comes under the influence of the tremendous attracting force generated by the first asteroid belt which totally envelops the central portion of our solar system. The negative charge of the asteroid belt is great enough to attract the particles from the sun and pull them back up to their original speed. Because this belt is grid-like in construction, with thousands of openings and paths, similar to a window screen with air going through, the particles dash on through and enter the influence of the planets beyond.

These, being negative in themselves, as are all planets, attract from space the positive particles they need for light and heat. At the same time infinite numbers of similar particles rush on past and are attracted by a second asteroid belt between Neptune and Pluto, where the process is repeated all over again. This furnishes Pluto and the last three planets with normal light and heat. (Twelve planets in all exist in our system, according to the space travelers).

A third asteroid belt is beyond the twelfth planet, serving a dual purpose of blending space within our system with that of neighbouring systems. At the same time it serves as a protective filter, comparable to the ionosphere encompassing a planet.

We might summarise by saying: the two inner asteroid belts gather rays from the sun and speed them on through space. They equalise, so to speak, conditions within the system from the area of Mercury right on to the outer reaches of our solar system, while the third keeps our system, as a unit, in balance with those beyond. Because of this cosmic activity, of which we on Earth have not previously been aware, we could go to any of our planets and enjoy a climate and atmosphere similar to our own.

FORMATION OF WARMINSTER CORN CIRCLE SEEN

by David Kingston

David Kingston started research into UFOs in 1950s whilst serving in the Royal Air Force as part of his role in RAF Intelligence. Mr. Kingston was stationed on Christmas Island in the Pacific Ocean, the site for Britain's first nuclear tests, when he experienced and logged his first sightings. The military name that his group classified them by as well as documenting them was "tele-metre discs".

Mr. Kingston also witnessed and recorded them at two secret testing sites in Australia before travelling to several other military bases around the world, both British and American, that were experiencing UFO's. He says "this information was shared between both American and British Air Intelligence, the Americans documenting it at that period in time in "Project Blue Book".

He ended up his Royal Air Force service contract by being stationed at the headquarters of the American Strategic Air Command (S.A.C.) in this country at RAF Brize Norton in Oxfordshire attached to their intelligence. This was a base from which 24-hour global patrols flew regular global flights and the crews witnessed many UFOs on their missions, which they reported to Mr. Kingston. He started his own investigations of the Crop Circle phenomena after seeing his first one at the foot of Cley Hill at Warminster, Wiltshire. Mr. Kingston further documents that he has carried from those early days research programmes on behalf of many, including BLT Research Team based in America, led by Mr. William Levensgood.

I have been researching the Crop Circle phenomena since I saw my first one in 1976. I had been on a "night watch" for UFO's on Cley Hill in Warminster. Three separate orbs of approximately six feet in diameter of coloured light had been weaving around and above us for some three hours on the top of Cley Hill, merging at times into a single globe and then separating again above us, suddenly one of the orbs descended to some thirty feet above us and then flew down into a field at the base of Cley Hill.

As dawn broke I noticed a flattened circle in a field of wheat. On inspection there were no broken stalks just a perfectly flattened circle some thirty feet in diameter. At that particular point in time I had seen and had knowledge of the famous "Tulley UFO Nests" in 1966 at Australia but had not heard of anything of a similar nature in this country. There then appeared to be a lapse in the appearances of any Crop Circles, despite my search and request for any information on them, until the early 1980's.

In my search and research for them during that period of time I uncovered a mention of them in early French literature (800AD). The Bishop of Lyon at that time had written to the local parish priest who was taking over his parish just outside of Lyon. The contents of the manuscript were basically to warn the new priest that there had been "devil worship" by his local parishioners who were collecting seeds out of "flattened circles" and using them for fertility rites.

I spoke to quite a few farmers who remembered seeing "odd shapes" in their fields or their parents' fields when they themselves were young but no real proof. I uncovered information from a second world war pilot who had been returning to RAF Tangmere after an aerial reconnaissance mission over Germany, as he approached the grass runway at his base he saw two flattened circles in the nearby growing cereal crop and photographed them not knowing what they were. I tried in vain to locate these two black and white photographs, which the pilot remembered were handed on the aerial reconnaissance film but once again to no avail. The pilot remembers seeing the film with the German aerial photographs and the two crop circles on it at his debrief which were then sent to the Air Ministry Intelligence at Whitehall.

During the early 1980's there were simple circles appearing in cereal crops ranging in sizes from ten to thirty feet in diameter but as we moved into the latter half of the eighties more complex shapes started to form which generated a lot of media attention.

We had a definite evolution happening with the Crop Circle Formations or Crop Glyphs as they were called and lots of theories being put forward as to the causes ranging from meteorological effects, military experiments through to UFO's and encounters of the human kind. They were, and do not only appear during the hours of darkness, they were and still do not only appear in just summer cereal crops, but in grass, stinging nettles, winter crops such as beet and kale, sugar cane, underwater in rice paddy fields in Japan, in the snow 13,000ft up in the mountains in Afghanistan, in fact world wide, not just restricted to Southern England as quite a few people believed, such as the two famous Doug & Dave.

These two hoaxers had claimed to have made all the crop circles in England since 1970's; little did they know then the extent of the formations. Yes, each year we do have formations that are man made, this is in no dispute with any of the researchers, but this does not account for remaining ones for which there appears to be no logical explanation.

With my investigations into the UFO enigma since the 1950's I felt, and still do, that there is a link and in 1988 I started up my own research unit called Crop Phenomena Investigations.

Since that period I have been working with several institutes including the famous Dr. William Levengood's laboratory in America.

He is a biophysicist and with his team carries out research on all samples sent to him from around the world that are taken out of Crop Circle Formations including the ones from this country. He has had his research papers published in several scientific journals worldwide.

What do we really know in regards to the formations?

Fact, we know from the scientific research that I am involved in that they are (the genuine formations) formed by an energy, which has the ability to alter the molecular structure of the plant without damaging it and the ability to alter the growth rate and pattern. This same energy has produced numerous photographic anomalies.

Fact, There is a distortion in the earth's electromagnetic field, sometimes a ghost image a short distance from the original formation.

Fact, spheres of light have been recorded on film in the formations, also military helicopters seen flying over these spheres apparently taking quite a keen interest in them.

Fact, the energy involved appears to be benign and to my knowledge is not used on this planet.

Fact, some formations radiate a frequency at approximately 7.5hz in the electromagnetic spectrum but this can vary from formation to formation. Many researchers and the BBC Television whilst filming in a formation have recorded it. I, recently using the aid of a computer and a specialised programme, have discovered that these beautiful creations of art in the fields are capable of producing the most unusual sounds and music.

Fact, this same frequency has been picked up many times in close proximity to UFO sightings.

Fact, despite several ploughings after the crop has been harvested the shape of some of the formations have remained, in some cases, in the soil for at least six months. This cannot be achieved by "crop formations" made by humans.

Fact, in some of the formations, compasses rotate at will denoting a magnetic anomaly present, camcorders, cell phones and other battery run equipment have displayed a discharged battery state when this is not the case.

Fact, crop outside of the formation does not display the same characteristics changes in cell structure as the crop found inside.

Fact, there is no level of consistency in some formations we have the sound factor, the magnetic anomalies, photographic anomalies and the lasting impressions in the soil but this is not to say you will find one or all of these in the next formation you visit but it can still turn out to be part of the genuine article.

Fact, if no human being goes into a formation the crop will continue to grow and the farmer will not lose any crop, only possibly what the birds will eat by the downed seeds.

Fact, farmers have combined the formations from their fields to avoid damage by the members of the public when they have occurred only to find another one appear a short distance away the following day.

Fact, mineralogist Sampath Iyengar of Technology of Materials Laboratory examined the degree of crystallinity (the ordering of atoms) in soil samples taken from within the formations using X-ray diffraction and a scanning electron microscope. He was shocked to find a temperature of between 1,500 and 1,800 degrees F would be required to alter the soil crystallinity to the level found and this of course would destroy any plants in the formation.

Fact, each year human beings, causing untold criminal damage to crops, create a large number of formations, and my sincere sympathy goes out to the landowners. I just wish more landowners would prosecute these criminal vandals.

Scientific papers have been recently released on the research carried out by Dr. William Levengood and are available to the general public for a small fee to cover the costs of package & postage from the United States of America. I have the research laboratory's address on my web site. Lucy Pringle, a fellow researcher, has carried out over the past seven years the physical and physiological effects the formations have had on human beings. I would like to thank her for allowing the use of her superb aerial photographs that she takes to accompany my article.

So what are we left with? Beautiful geometric patterns in the fields, which defy our laws of logic, physics and reasoning but none the less, keep appearing worldwide. This does not include the large number that are man-made.

They appear to have a very spiritual, profound effect on all who visit or research them; perhaps if nothing else this is their reason.

Like the UFO scenario, there have been cover-ups with the Crop Circle Formations, they are a mystery which one day mankind will know, for the truth is out there, if you know where to look.

NOTES AND NEWS

Humanlike figure on Mars

Several papers at the end of January have reported on a humanlike figure which appeared on a picture of a Mars landscape taken by the Spirit rover, and opinions have been mixed as to what it is. But its colour seems markedly different from the rocks around it, as does its general shape:

UFO photographed near Navy ship

The Sun reported on a number of sightings in Cornwall recently:

BRITAIN is turning into an alien nation according to Sun readers who have flooded us with reports of UFO sightings. Following our story of a UFO seen off Cornwall on December 29 we were inundated by calls from people who had similar things all over the country. Some claimed they had seen alien spacecraft off the same bay in Cornwall where our original UFO was snapped. A man who asked just to be called Edward snapped a strange shaped object which appeared to be 'buzzing' a Navy ship. He said: "I was taking photos of the ship when a helicopter from it took off, flew west then landed back on board just a few minutes later. "It was only when I blew up the photos on my computer that I realised what the helicopter had gone off to take a look at. It was in the exact same bay as the one featured in The Sun earlier this week."

American holidaymaker Ian Mulford also believes he snapped a UFO at virtually the same spot as Edward. Ian said: "I was taking photographs and did not see anything unusual at the time, but after reviewing the pictures I found something very unusual in the background of a picture of one of the family.

Partygoer Rodga Harvey claims he snapped a UFO as he made his way home from a party on New Years eve. Rodga, from St.Ives, said: "It was only when I looked at the photo later that I realised there was this weird flying object in the sky. "It didn't look like any normal aircraft so I am sure it is a UFO."

Mum of one Rachel Clarke, 25, is totally convinced that she filmed two UFOs flying above the skies above Borehamwood on New Year's Day. Rachel said: "I was standing on the balcony of a neighbour's house celebrating. "We suddenly saw a bright light appear in the sky, then another one joined it. "They both started darting about really fast. They weren't flying around like normal planes, or helicopters. "Everyone who saw them, and there were about 15 of us, were amazed. I didn't see any green men flying them, but I am sure they were UFOs.

Grandmother Mary Booth, 57, says she saw what she believes was a UFO in Bristol on New Year's Eve.

UFOS in Wales and Sussex

Web sites have been reporting numbers of sightings in various parts of the country recently:

SIGHTINGS of unidentified flying objects have soared in the last month, with at least two a week seen by airline pilots in South Wales. Dancing lights, large craft and mysterious flashes are among dozens of UFOs sighted above Cardiff and the South Wales Valleys in the last few years. And only four days ago, on the night of Christmas Day, a couple saw spherical orange lights in the sky above their home in the capital.

According to figures released under the Freedom of Information Act, the Ministry of Defence has looked into 13 reports of UFOs in South Wales in the past three years. Several other sightings have been posted on UFO websites but it is thought that many more go unreported. David Coggins has been a UFO investigator for 30 years and says there has been a spate of sightings in recent months.

He said: "There have been lots of reports by airline pilots flying in and out of South Wales who are seeing a lot of unidentified craft on a frequent basis, one or two a week. "Generally speaking, they are large triangular shaped objects. It's not just during the night but in daylight as well. "I've come across people who have seen UFOs very close up, from a distance of 12 feet." Just three weeks ago, Martin Dupres and two friends had a close encounter when they saw a strange light in the sky in Lisvane at 5pm on Tuesday, December 11.

Martin, 43, of Riverside, Cardiff, said: "I saw an extremely bright light come straight across the sky. Then it faded out but it might have sped up. "It wasn't a satellite or an aeroplane. This thing was not like that. The light shone towards my eyes then carried on. I'm curious, I've never seen anything like it before."

There was another sighting of a UFO at 4am on September 9 in St Mellons, Cardiff. The witness saw an incredibly bright star but it suddenly started moving up and down and side to side swiftly and then flashing lights appeared around it like cameras.

One account comes from a Cardiff man left shaken after he saw three lights dancing around each other before flying away in April 2006.

He said: "I saw something that I never believed I would. I saw what at first I thought was a plane, until it changed direction at such an acute angle. At this point it was by two more lights - they were very blurry, orange in colour. They danced around each other and then moved off.

Tuesday, November 27, 2007 - UFOs over East Sussex? People across Sussex have been seeing strange objects in the sky. Strange lights were spotted in land from Norman's Bay, a UFO was sighted over Battle on Wednesday 21/11 and a mystery light was seen hovering over Cross in Hand. Nicholas Munro of Norman's Bay made the sighting on Saturday night (November 17). He said, "I first noticed them around 9pm and drew my wife's attention to them. "They were still there at around 11 pm when I went to bed. "They appeared to be a group of faint lights either in or above the low cloud rotating very rapidly in a horizontal circular clockwise direction.

"Either that or a group of lights being projected from something which was itself rotating rapidly in a clockwise direction." Meanwhile Ann Drake of Battle said she spotted a UFO over the town this morning (November 21). She said, "My window has a clear view east over fields. I noticed this incredibly bright light just hanging there in front of the clouds. "It was too bright and in the wrong place to be a morning star. "I had a cup of tea and went to pull the bedroom curtains ten minutes later and it was still there, just hanging stationary. Then I noticed a red light and it accelerated away at incredible speed. "Whatever it was could not have been that far away as it was in front of the clouds. "I have never seen anything like that before but am keeping an open mind."

In Cross in Hand a mystery light was spotted by local resident Lynnda Rose. She said, "I was out with my dog and noticed a light above the field moving in a circular motion. "I can only describe it as looking like an oval, thick mist which was quite bright." "I've never seen anything like it before and can find no explanation."

THE STAR FELLOWSHIP VIDEO - This video contains three titles:

THE ADAMSKI SCOUTSHIP

The "classic" flying saucer, as photographed by George Adamski. Yet some claim they have never been seen - this video shows otherwise, with numerous independent sightings, including some from the U.K. It also contains George Adamski's own account of his first contact on the California desert, from his talk in London.

A VISIT TO TONY WEDD COUNTRY

A visit to Chiddingstone, the home of Tony Wedd, founder of the STAR Fellowship. See Tony's home, as well as the Chiding Stone, the Bull Rock cave, and Chiddingstone Hoath, all mentioned in Tony's writings, as well as other ley points in the area. Also the talk Skyways and Landmarks, with Tony's own voice and slides.

THE ALBURY SIGHTING

Denis Shipwright gives the details of his sighting from Newlands Corner, Guildford, the day before we went to the site and found a stone with strange markings, which seemed to closely match a photograph of Mars taken two years earlier by Mariner 4 space probe. Details of the Mars picture and its correlations, and UFO sighting as the signals were being received.

£6 inc. postage from the Amskaya address. Please make cheque payable to J. Goddard

THE HIDDEN UNITY and BEGINNINGS

The Hidden Unity looks at the strange phenomenon of subconscious siting of ley points, and notes that places of worship, of all religions and all ages, tend to predominate on leys. The environmental and philosophical implications of this are discussed, and the apparent necessity of worship but irrelevance of doctrine. Two ley centres are given as examples, and investigated in depth - the Shah Jehan Mosque in Woking and the Guru Nanak Sikh Temple, Scunthorpe. There is an appendix by Eileen Grimshaw on the significance of the Pagan religion to this study. Illustrated with photographs, maps and line drawings. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

Beginnings is about a series of potentially useful discoveries, mainly made by Jimmy Goddard over a period of about twenty years, but having some overlap with discoveries made by others. For various reasons, the investigations are all in their early stages, and some have not been continued. They include earth energy detection, natural antigravity, subconscious siting, ley width, and the solar transition effect. There is also a chapter on cognitive dissonance - a psychological factor which seems to have been at the root of all bigotry - scientific, religious and other - down the ages. The booklet is concluded with an account of the discovery of leys by Alfred Watkins. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

EARTH PEOPLE, SPACE PEOPLE

In 1961, Tony Wedd produced a manuscript Earth Men, Space Men, detailing many claims of extraterrestrial contact. It was never published, and I had thought it was lost, though it has recently been located - Tony had given it to Timothy Good. To try to make up for the loss in a much more modest size, this booklet was prepared. As well as giving details of some of the more prominent contact claims, there are articles on the history of the STAR Fellowship and some of its personalities, evidence for life in the Solar System and investigation into extraterrestrial language.

£2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

THE LEGACY OF TONY WEDD

This CD-ROM is an electronic form of the travelling exhibition Tony planned, using his voice, writing, photographs and drawings to illustrate his research and findings in the fields of flying saucers, landscape energies and lost technology.

£9.99 from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

AMSKAYA is the newsletter of the STAR Fellowship, a continuation of the organisation formed in 1960 by Tony Wedd of Chiddingstone, who held that contact was the way ahead for flying saucer investigation. £2 for four quarterly issues from J. Goddard, Fostercourt Lodge, 192, Stroude Road, Egham, Surrey, TW20.9UT. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard. IF YOUR SUBSCRIPTION IS DUE AN "X" WILL FOLLOW THIS SENTENCE:
